". . . is one of her best and cleverest novels . . . filled to the brim with amusing incidents and experiences. . . . This vivacious narrative needs no commendation to the readers of Miss Bell's well-known earlier books. They will all read it—and they will enjoy it; and that is one of the safest prophecies we have made for some time."—N. Y. Press.

HENRY HARLAND'S GREAT VERANDA NOVEL

THE LADY PARAMOUNT

By the author of "THE CARDINAL'S SNUFF-BOX" (85,000th), "COMEDIES AND ERRORS," "GREY ROSES," etc.

The New York Tribune:

"All extremely captivating."
"We delight in him."
"A novel one cannot help enjoying."

The New York Sun:

"A book full of sunshine and sparkle."
"A book without a shadow."

The Chicago Record Herald:

"It will be a prime favorite for summer reading."

The Baltimore Sun:

"The brightest piece of fiction that we have read in many moons."
"The most brilliant of contemporary novelists."

LOVERS OF POETRY HAVE A FEAST OF PLEASURE BEFORE THEM THIS SPRING and SUMMER IN READING and RE-READING

INDIA'S LOVE LYRICS

Collected and Arranged by LAURENCE HOPE

The London ATHENÆUM, in its review of the volume, written by one who must be himself a true poet, writes:

"Mr. Hope brings to his task considerable command over various rhythms and a delicate gift of melody and sensuous beauty. His garden signifies the tremulous

IRRECOVERABLE DELICIOUSNESS OF YOUNG PASSION.

Mr. Hope has caught admirably the dominant notes of this Indian love poetry, its delirious absorption in the instant, its out-of-door air, its melancholy. Slender brown limbs stir silently in the garden, in the hot, jasmine-scented jungle among the pink almond blossoms of Kandahar. And always there is the poignant sense of the fleetness of love—a moment's salvage from the flux of time."

WHERE FLYING FOXES CROSS THE MOON

NOTES IN SEASON.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish in the early summer Henry James's new story, "The Wings of a Dove."

J. F. TAYLOR & CO., New York, announce a volume of short stories, entitled "In the Gates of Israel," by Herman Bernstein, whose intimate knowledge of life among the Jews of Germany, Russia and this country, and an in-born ability, enable him to interpret the pains and pleasures, the tragedies and comedies of his people with marvellous fidelity. Mr. Bernstein was born in 1876 at Schirwindt, a village in East Prussia. At the age of nine his parents removed to neighboring Russia, where he lived for several years in Mohiley on the Dnieper. In 1893 the great stream of emigration carried him to New York. His work has been highly praised by Israel Zangwill and W. D. Howells.

L. C. PAGE & CO. have purchased from Silver, Burdett & Co. the works of Charles G. D. Roberts, formerly published by them. Messrs. Page & Co. are now the authorized publishers of Mr. Roberts's "The Heart of the Ancient Wood," "The Forge in the Forest," "A Sister to Evangeline," "Earth's Enigmas," "By the Marshes of Minas," "A History of Canada," and of the following four volumes of poetry—"Songs of the Common Day," "In Divers Tones," "The Book of the Native," and "New York Nocturnes." They have just ready a new volume of poems by Mr. Roberts, and on May 15 they will publish his "The Kindred of the Wild," a nature classic, with illustrations by Charles Livingston Bull. They will publish in the fall still another book by Mr. Roberts, entitled "Barbara Ladd," a novel of early Colonial days.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO. will publish this month, in the line of fiction, Mrs. Wiggin's "Diary of a Goose Girl," a sparkling tale of an American girl masquerading in England; "The Champion," a Southern story for boys, by Charles Egbert Craddock; "The Desert and the Sown," a novel of contrasts between the West and the East, by Mary Hallock Foote; Mrs. Maude Egerton King's idyllic picture of Swiss peasant life, "Bread and Wine;" "A Remedy for Love," a novel by Ellen Olney Kirk, portraying with much delicacy the perplexities of a debutante; "To the End of the Trail," a novel of Western mining life, by Frank Lewis Nason, a mining engineer of wide experience; "The Diary of a Saint," by Arlo Bates, a story of self-sacrifice that proves that saintship may be ethical as well as religious; also, "John Kenadie," a story of Arkansas, involving a perplexing inheritance of love and hate, by Ripley D. Saunders.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY will publish on the 10th inst. a history of the Boer war from the Boer side, entitled "The Boer Fight for Freedom," by Michael Davitt, who went to Africa during the heat of the early fighting, and gives a graphic description of the siege of Ladysmith, the crossing of the Tugela River, the Battle of Spionkop, General Methuen's campaign and of the subsequent events up to date, including De la Rey's latest victories. The work contains a number of halftones from photographs taken during the war. Other books to be brought out this month are: "The Gordian Knot, or, the Problem Which Baffles Infidelity," a discussion of the limitations of modern agnosticism, by Dr. Arthur T. Pierson; ten volumes of sermons by the Rev. Alexander MacLaren, the leading pulpit orator of England; a sympathetic character study of Alexander MacLaren, by John C. Carlile; also, "The Standard Primary School Dictionary," the latest addition to the Standard Dictionary series, containing about 28,000 words.

American electrical cases; (cited Am. electl. cas.): being a coll. of important cases (excepting patent cases) decided in the state and federal courts of the United States from 1873 on subjects relating to the telegraph, the telephone, electric light and power, electric railway, and other practical uses of electricity; with annots.; ed. by W. W. Morrill. v. 7, 1897-1901. Alb., Matthew Bender, 1902. c. 24+940 p. O. shp., $6. Contains index-digest, vs. 1-7.

Arnold, E. Armature windings of direct current dynamos: extension and application of a general winding rule; tr. from the original German by Francis B. De Gress. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand Co., 1902. c. 6+124 p. il. O. cl., $2.

The author, who is assistant professor in electro-technology and machine design at the Riga Polytechnic School, in endeavoring to establish rules for winding armatures for direct current machines to enable his students to solve independently any assumed problem in winding, found that all so-called close-coil windings with either a series or parallel arrangement of the inductors could be embraced under a general rule which applied equally well to ring, drum and disk armatures. According to Professor Arnold "the common as well as the peculiar properties of the various windings can be accurately observed with the aid of this rule."

Charles, Frances. In the country God forgot: a story of to-day. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1902. [Ap.] c. 6+328 p. D. cl., $1.50. The scene is Arizona, "the country God forgot."

Clarke, Mrs. Mary Cowden, [Mary Victoria Novello.] Letters to an enthusiast: being a series of letters addressed to Robert Balmanno, Esq., of New York, 1850-1861; ed. by Anne Upton Nettleton. Chic., A. C. McClurg & Co., 1902. [Mr.] c. 4-345 p. por. O. cl., net, $2.50.

This might be called a chapter in the life of the great Shakespearean scholar. The correspondence began after the publication of her famous "Concordance," in reply to a request from Mr. Balmanno for one of the slips used in preparing the work.

*In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record.

that he might have a word in her own handwriting. It lasted from 1850 to 1861, though Mrs. Clarke and her admirer never met. The letters are personal in tone, and as Mrs. Clarke was intimately acquainted with the leaders of social and literary circles in London, they abound in interesting references to Hazlitt, Keats, Douglas Jerrold, Lamb, Leigh Hunt, Dickens, and Millais.

Conger, Rev. Arthur B. Religion for the time: six conferences on natural religion, delivered in the Church of the Transfiguration, New York. Phil., G: W. Jacobs & Co., [1902.] [Ap.] c. 283 p. D. cl., net, $1.

The object of these conferences is to give the people at large a simple statement of the main positions of Theism; also, to counteract the trend of thought that the scientific disclosures of the past half century render fundamental truths of Christianity no longer tenable.

Coppée, François. Le morceau de pain, et autres contes; with explanatory notes in English by G. Castelnier. N. Y., W: R. Jenkins, [1902.] c. 2+95 p. sq. S. (Contes choisis, no. 22.) pap., 25 c.

Fairbanks, Harold W. Home geography for primary grades. Bost., Educational Publishing Co., [1902.] c. 236 p. il. sq. O. cl., 60 c.

The author in preparing this work has kept in mind the fact, that "things have far more interest attached to them when we know their history; how they came to be as they are. The child wants to know the 'why' of what it sees, and in the explanation of this 'why' its imagination is developed and interest aroused," hence Mr. Fairbanks has simply told the story of the various phenomena of nature without crowding in a multitude of facts that children neither comprehend or can retain.

Fox, Emma A. Parliamentary usage for women's clubs. N. Y., Baker & Taylor Co., 1902. c. 12+186 p. S. cl., net, 65 c. A manual of parliamentary law and practice, designed for the use of literary, social, musical, philanthropic and fraternal societies.

Frye, Alexis Everett. Grammar school geography. [New ed.] Bost., Ginn, 1902. c. '95-1902. 7+195+8 p. il. maps, f°, cl., $1.45. "In this book man is the central thought, every line of type, every picture, every map, has been prepared with a single purpose, namely, to present the earth as the home of man. To describe and locate the natural features, climates and products that largely determine his industries and commerce as well as his civic and other relations."—Preface.

These satires on the fads and foibles of modern society were first published in the New York Journal. Some of the titles are: The bear who loved the tigress; The goat who played the races; How the owl became an oracle; The female goose and the silly hens; The donkey who learned to kick; The donkey who arbitrated society; The lion who knew it all.

Gladden, Washington. Social salvation. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1902. [Ap.] c. 7+240 p. D. cl., net, $1.

Lyman Beecher Foundation lectures which were prepared for the delivery to the Divinity School of Yale University, March, 1902. They are addressed to men who are preparing for the ministry. The titles are Religion and the social question; The care of the poor; The state and the unemployed; Our brothers in bonds; Social vices; Public education; The redemption of the city; References and suggestions.

Gorky, Maxime, [pseud. for Alexei Maximovich Pyeshkoff.] Tales from Gorky; from the Russian; with a biographical notice of the author by R. Nisbet Bain. 3d ed. N. Y., Funk & Wagnalls Co., 1902. [Ap.] c. 3-285 p. D. cl., net, $1.20.

Stories of tramp life in Russia founded on incidents that came under Gorky's personal observation while he was himself a tramp. The titles are: In the steppe; Twenty-six of us and one other; One autumn night; A rolling stone; The green kitten; Comrades; Her lover; Chelkash; Chums.

Harte, Francis Bret. Openings in the old trail. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1902. [Ap.] c. 4+332 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Nine stories of vigorous Western life, entitled: A mercury of the Foot-Hills; Colonel Starbottle for the plaintiff; The landlord of the Big Flume Hotel; A Buckeye Hollow inheritance; The reincarnation of Smith; Lanty Foster's mistake; An Ali Baba of the Sierras; Miss Peggy's protégés; The goddess of excelsior.

Hempel, Walther. Methods of gas analysis; tr. from the 3d German ed. and considerably enlarged by L. M. Dennis. N. Y., Macmillan, 1902. c. 19+490 p. 12°, cl., net, $2.25.

Henderson, C. Hanford. Education and the larger life: [essays.] Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1902. [Ap.] c. 4+386 p. D. cl., net, $1.30.

The author's purpose is "to make a large inquiry—the inquiry as to how education can be so applied in America as to further best the progress of civilization." The book is both a criticism of existing conditions and an indication of the way to a better order. Mr. Henderson strongly favors kindergartens, manual training schools, small classes, experimental and laboratory methods in teaching.

Hinds, W: Alfred. American communities; rev. ed., enlarged to include additional societies, new and old, communistic, semi-communistic and co-operative. Rev. ed. Chic., C: H. Kerr & Co., 1902. c. 433 p. il. (Murby's science ser.) S. cl., $1.

The first edition was published in 1878. Preparatory to the present revision the author according to introductory, revisited all the societies represented excepting two, and studied anew the history of American communities, associations, and co-operative colonies.

Hobbs, W. R. P. The arithmetic of electrical measurements; with numerous examples fully worked; rev. to date by R. Wormell. 9th ed. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand Co., 1902. 112 p. S. cl., 50 c.

The alterations in the present edition, according to the Preface, consist in the replacing of a few more or less obsolete or obsolescent words by their modern equivalents.

Holleman, A. F. A text-book of inorganic chemistry; from the Dutch by Hermon C. Cooper; with the co-operation of the author. pt. 2. N. Y., J. Wiley & Sons. 1902. c. 8+458 p. 8°, cl., $2.50.

Hough, Emerson. The Mississippi bubble; how the star of good fortune rose and set and rose again by a woman's grace for one John Law of Lauriston: a novel; il. by H. Hutt. Indianapolis, Ind., Bowen-Merrill Co., [1902.] [Ap.] c. 4+452 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The time of the novel is about 1716. It deals with the fortunes of John Law when he founded the Banque Generale and acquired the control of the Territory of Louisiana for colonization and trade; likewise with the adventures of Lady Catharine Knollys, who united her fate with the adventurer after the bursting of the Mississippi bubble.

Jacob, Rev. J.: T: Christ the indweller: an attempt to trace the practical bearing of the doctrine of the inward Christ on common life. N. Y., Macmillan, 1902. 11+257 p. 12°, cl., $1.50.

Jenkinson, I: Aaron Burr, his personal and political relations with Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton. Richmond, Ind., [published by the author, I: Jenkinson, 1902.] c. 8+389 p. D. cl., $1.25.

According to the preface this is not a biography; it simply deals with those personal and political antagonisms which assailed Aaron Burr, and left him with a ruined reputation. The purposes of the work, therefore, are to inquire into the motives of Burr, and the causes of his unpopularity; also, to give facts about him and his assailants in order that the reader may be enabled to form a just estimate of his character.

A novel of Western life. The hero is a cattle puncher, who while foreman of a ranch, was jilted by a cultivated Eastern woman. To display his power he organizes a band to "rustle" or brand others' cattle as his own. The story describes the struggle between this band of outlaws and the ranch owners, also the capture of the heroine who becomes a regenerating influence in the camp.

Major, C.: ["Edwin Caskoden," pseud.] Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall; il. by Howard Chandler Christy. N. Y., Macmillan, 1902. [Ap.] c. 369 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The author of "When knighthood was in flower" revives in his latest novel an incident of the Elizabethan era, namely, the elopement of John Manners and Dorothy Vernon. In this story Mr. Major's happy faculty of surrounding his characters with an atmosphere of reality is very much in evidence. The reader could almost imagine he was in the living presence of Mary Stuart, Leicester, Rizzio, England's virgin Queen, and other famous personages whose adventures are chronicled.

Marchmont, Arthur W. Sarita, the Carlist. N. Y., F: A. Stokes Co., [1902.] c. 5+425 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A novel founded on events that agitated the people of Spain and harassed the Royal family previous to the Spanish-American war. Among the characters introduced are King Alphonsus and his mother, the Duke of Novarro, Quesada, and "Sarita the Carlist," who is supposed to have been originator of the plot to abduct the King.

Pennsylvania Society of New York: year book of the Pennsylvania Society of New York. [1902. 2d year.] N. Y., Pennsylvania Society of New York, 1902. c. 143 p. O. cl., $1.

The Pennsylvania Society of New York was organized April 25, 1899; it now numbers three hundred and seventy-six members. Seventy-six of these were enrolled in 1901. The specific object of the society, as stated in its constitution, is to cultivate social intercourse among members, to promote their best interests, to collect historical material relating to the State of Pennsylvania, and to keep alive its memory in New York. This year book is an entirely new work, which it is hoped will broaden the influence of the society in both New York and Pennsylvania.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MAY 3, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE BOOKSELLERS' WORD.

THE word of the booksellers, as expressed in the memorandum of the Executive Committee of the American Booksellers' Association, puts the retail trade definitely and happily on record in favor of a low retail price for books, which will give to the public an evident advantage from the new method involved in the "publishers' plan." We are glad to believe, as we have more than once stated, that most publishers have accepted the reform in that spirit; and it is to be regretted that, in some instances, incidental circumstances, or a failure to carry out the plan in this respect, have led to criticism, in some cases well founded, although in others based on a misapprehension of the facts.

The Booksellers' Association meets the plea of the Library Association for a larger discount, with a request to the Publishers' Association that the library discount should be abolished altogether. Incidentally criticism is passed upon the State Librarian of New York, in response to the gauntlet thrown down by him a year or two since, which will seem to the trade well founded, although it is to be regretted that the criticism should be couched in phraseology which is in itself not beyond criticism. That the State should interfere with private business by making the public library, at the expense of the public, a substitute for the local bookstore, can scarcely be defended from the library point of view, and is certainly reprehensible from the bookseller's and the taxpayer's point of view. It is unfortunate, also, that the Executive Committee of the Booksellers' Association has permitted itself to make the threat of appealing to the labor organizations and attempting to make so minor a matter a State issue—which does more harm than good. On the main question it would seem that the extreme position of the librarians has been met by an extreme position on the part of the Booksellers' Association—perhaps too much on the principle of the jury which takes a ballot on a suit for damages and averages up the result. The libraries under the old system, or lack of system, were practically buying their books without paying the ordinary expenses of handling them—which was asking too much. On the other hand, there is not a little to be said, practically, in favor of some concession to them which would not advance the price of books to them under the new plan beyond a reasonable extent. There is much disposition on the part of publishers to make some further concession to public libraries, but not to the extent proposed by the Library Association. The Booksellers' Association is thoroughly right in the position that it is not fair to ask that books should be handled without cost, and that discount to the libraries should be the same as discount to the trade. One instance has come to our notice where one firm, which incidentally publishes some books, or a book, has gone to the extreme of making a larger discount to libraries and to professional men than to the book-trade, which, of course, is notice to the book-trade not to handle the book. A discount which shall hold for the bookseller at least the cost of handling books for libraries, and, properly, something more, would be the happy mean, and we trust that this may be the result arrived at—not by polemics or abuse, but by mutual consideration.

The Booksellers' Association proposes some modification of the plan, speaking out strongly in favor of bringing novels under the rule, and asking for the extension of the one-year period. The halfway measure adopted for novels has had the result of affording to the one department store which is on the war-path fresh fuel for its advertising campaign, which seems to be conducted regardless of the fact that it is not always practicable to obtain the books so freely advertised. We hope, therefore, that at its meeting later this month the Publishers' Association may see its way to something better regarding novels. As to the extension of the one-year period, that is more of a question. It is not well to stretch the new plan too far at the start, and the one-year feature seems a useful method of "easing up." Perhaps it would be well, therefore, to give the plan a longer trial on its present basis without attempting to enforce more stringent regulations, which might engender fresh opposition where now that opposition is limited to very narrow grounds. So much has been gained that it would seem wiser not to jeopardize everything by seeking too much.

A POINT of much importance in the preparation of publishers' catalogues for the coming season is the designation of net books on the publishers' plan by some distinctive bibliographical mark which can be generally adopted. The word net is of doubtful significance in this connection, because it may refer to net books under the old regime, meaning books of close discount, or to those of the new plan, meaning books of reduced price, with no discount to the public. Possibly the initial R, meaning "reduced" or "reform" price, or the initial P, referring to the publishers' plan, might be used; or a printer's sign in general use but not associated with any special meaning might be found; or a heavy-face dollar ($$$) or cent (c) mark might be used to designate net books on the new plan, while on others ordinary face would be used as heretofore. We suggest that this should receive the consideration of the Publishers' Association or of its Executive Committee at the next meeting, so that announcement might be made in time for the publishers' catalogues which will appear in the "Publishers' Trade List Annual" of the present year.

THE ASSOCIATED BOOKSELLERS OF GREAT BRITAIN.

THE annual meeting of the Associated Booksellers of Great Britain and Ireland was held April 11 at Stationers' Hall, London, the president, Henry W. Keay, in the chair. After reading the report for the year ending December, 1901, and the rendering of accounts the chairman addressed the meeting, congratulating the association upon the very satisfactory relations that exist between them and the publishers. The Associated Booksellers are also satisfied with the success of the net price system, and look forward to the time when the giving of trade discounts to the public will be a folly of the past. Last year there were published 5675 books that were called "subject books" and 2322 net books. The value of the "subject books" was £1211, 8s. 7d., and that of the net books £983, 3s. 4d., showing that though the numbers were not nearly so many as far as net books were concerned, yet the amount came very close indeed.

The London Publishers' Circular, in commenting on the meeting, says: "It would be a mistake to suppose that all publishers and booksellers approve of the net system; there are still many who have to be converted, and it will evidently be a long time before colonial booksellers favor it—in fact, it may be said that dislike for the net book increases in proportion as the distance of the bookseller from the place of publication increases the cost of carriage."

THE ASSOCIATED BOOKSELLERS OF GREAT BRITAIN.

"THE Relations Between Authors and Publishers" was the subject discussed at the meeting of the Illinois Press Association, held on April 3 at the Palmer House, Chicago, under the direction of the Publishers' Section of which Mrs. Fanny M. Harley, formerly head of the F. M. Harley Publishing Company, is the chairman. L. Frank Baum, who spoke for the author, advised his confrères to stick to one publisher, emphasizing the injustice of deserting a publisher after he had invested heavily in advertising to make a reputation for the writer. He surprised his hearers by counseelling small royalties, showing the advantages derived therefrom by facilitating greater sales through a larger amount of advertising. He showed how the interests of both parties are mutual, and that the publisher must make money if the author did, therefore he could only push books that showed a profit.

W. F. Zimmerman, of A. C. McClurg & Co., presented the publishers' side of the question. To his mind the relations of publisher and author are akin to those that exist between lawyer and client, physician and patient, as well as those of capitalist and inventor—of those who provide the means for carrying out the schemes and ideas of those who think out these schemes and ideas. Mr. Zimmerman very cleverly and convincingly proceeded to prove his contention that the true and reputable publisher is as much intent upon issuing books that will actually benefit mankind as he is upon making his ventures profitable.

Francis Brown, of the publishing department of A. C. McClurg & Co., concluded the entertainment by replying to questions and giving further information relative to the subject.

THE LEFFERTS SALE.

THE sale of the principal portion of early English prose and poetry from the library of Marshall C. Lefferts, that took place at Bangs' from April 21 to 24, notwithstanding the fact that some of the best books had been previously disposed of privately, was an event of considerable importance in the annals of book auctions. In spite of this the attendance throughout the sale was small and the prices, with few exceptions, anything but exorbitant.

The total of the sale was not given out, but it is estimated to have been between $37,000 and $40,000.

On the first day a black-letter edition of "Adam Bell, Clim of the Clough and William of Cloudesle" brought $250; the 1600 edition of Allot's "England's Parnassus," $150; a first edition of Ascham's "Scholemaster," $145, and a first edition of the "Toxophilus," $160. A first edition of Bunyan's "Holy War" was run up to $700; a set of editions of Samuel Butler went for $390; black-letter Chaucers brought various prices up to $200. A collection of editions of John Cleveland sold for $312. The 1611 edition of Coryat's "Crudities," after a spirited contest, was knocked down at $440. A collection of the works of the Rev. T. F. Dibdin brought high prices.

The highest price paid for a single book at the second day of the sale was $1100. The volume was "Songes and Sonnettes Written by the Right Honorable Lord Henry Haward, Late Earle of Surrey, and Others," London, 1567—the fifth edition of what is commonly called "Tottel's Miscellany." The price was not excessive, in view of the fact that this copy is probably the earliest edition of the famous work that is procurable at any price. Bishop Garvin Douglas's "Translation of Virgil," 1553, went for $235; the 1656 edition of the poems of Drummond of Hawtornden, for $200; "Queen Elizabeth's Prayer-Book," 1578, for $329.50; and Patrick Hanney's "Nightingale," 1622, for $290. The first edition of Herrick's "Hesperides," 1648, ran up to $420; and John Heywood's "Works," 1562, to $210. This price is $15 lower than that of the Adey copy.

On the third day a first edition of Ben Jonson's "Volpone, or the Foxe," a rare book, brought $110, and $70 was paid for the same author's "Memorie," which contains many references to Shakespeare. Thomas Jordan's "Poetical Varieties" sold for $42.50. For "The King's and Queen's entertainment at Richmond, after their departure from Oxford, in a masque presented by the Most Illustrious Prince Charles, September 12, 1636," $55 was paid. Leland's journeys brought $40, and "The Art of Making Love," 1676, $37.50. John Lydgate's collection of the tragedies, about 1555, was sold for $190 after a lively contest, and Lylly's "Anatomy of Wit" and "Euphues and His England," bound together, was sold next for $100. The first issue of "The Lays of Ancient Rome" brought $15. Andrew Marvell's poems were sold at $75, and Middleton's "A Game of Chess," one of his rarest plays, brought $190. This edition of Middleton's play is believed to be one of the only two in existence in the original edition. Milton's famous "Areopagitica" brought $145, but the "Eikonoclastes" only $42.50. The first edition of Florio's "Montaigne" brought the highest price of the third day, $355. This is often called the "Shakespeare edition," from the fact that the British Museum contains a copy bearing the autograph of Shakspere. The 1664 edition of Thomas Killigrew's plays, containing the fine portrait by Faithorne, brought $150; a black-letter Lydgate (circa 1555), $190; and a French manuscript Book of Hours, beautifully illuminated, $195. Other manuscripts in Persian, Arabic and Hebrew also sold for $50 and more. The 1589 edition of Puttenham's "Art of English Poesie" went for $175, and a first edition of the Earl of Rochester's poems for $155.

The highest price paid on the last day of the sale was $380 for a Shakespeare folio of 1685. A "Life of Sir John Oldcastle," 1600, went for $350; and "Two Noble Kinsmen," 1634, for $280. The first English book of emblems, Geffrey Whitney's, 1586, brought $210.

A RARE SHAKESPEARE FOLIO.

PUTTICK & SIMPSON, the London auctioneers, will include in one of their early May sales a fine copy of Shakespeare's Second Folio having the very rare Smethwick title-page. On the 20th of March last another copy with the same title, measuring, curiously enough, precisely the same, (12 $\frac{1}{8}$ in. x 8 $\frac{5}{8}$ in.,) realized \$3450 at Sotheby's, that being the highest amount ever obtained at auction for the volume in question. In the present copy the defects are of the slightest description, comprising faint staining, a repair to a small portion of the plain margin of A1, and the strengthening of the last leaf. The copy is in old calf, and in every respect desirable. Nearly all the copies hitherto sold have had the Allot title-page. The Daniel, Tite, Orford, Ives and Daly copies all had the Allot title, as also have the three copies in the British Museum and the one in the Huth Library. The example in the Lenox Library, New York, has, however, the Smethwick title, and was purchased in 1855 from Henry Stevens, together with the three other Folios and about forty of the Quartos, for a lump sum of \$3000. The prices realized in old days for the Second Folio are not without interest. According to the London Athenaeum, they show that in 1680 about 16s. was deemed sufficient; in 1790, £4 4s.; in 1820, from £10 to £13; in 1832, about £20; in 1873, about £45; and in 1890, from £50 to £60. The collection of Shakespeares in the sale of Lieutenant-Colonel E. G. Hibbert's library, sold on the 9th to the 12th of April, at Sotheby's, realized £1050 for the First Folio, (1623,) title defective, etc.; £350 for the Second Folio, (1632); £755 for the Third Folio, 1663, with the 1664 title-page added; and £118 for the Fourth Folio, (1685.)

JEWELLED BIBLE ENTERS FREE.

A JEWEL-STUDDED, gold-bound manuscript Bible of the eighth century was brought into New York last week by Junius S. Morgan, the nephew of J. Pierpont Morgan, who left it with the collector for appraisal. Collector Stranahan decided that the Bible could come in free of duty under either paragraph 609 of the tariff law as a manuscript, or under paragraph 502 as a book in a foreign language. In his application for its appraisement Mr. Morgan placed the value of the book at $45,000.

CANADIAN COPYRIGHT ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of wholesale booksellers, stationers, master printers and bookbinders, held in Toronto on April 24, it was decided to form a copyright association. The object of the Copyright Association, according to one of those prominently concerned in its organization, is to give particular attention to the question of Canadian copyright, which has been nobody's business up to the present time. The scenes of the association's chief activity will be laid in Toronto for the present, but the promoters are hoping that the movement will extend to other large cities of the Dominion.

A $25,000,000 PAPER COMPANY.

THE WHITE MOUNTAIN PAPER COMPANY, which was organized recently by New York and New England capitalists under a New Jersey charter, authorizing a capital of $25,000,000, is about to begin active competition with the International Paper Company. The new company will build at Portsmouth, N. H., one of the largest pulp and paper plants in this country. The practical operations will be begun within two weeks. One hundred and twenty acres of land at Freeman's Point, Portsmouth, have been purchased and upon this the mills will be constructed. Water powers have been acquired upon the Saco River and also upon the Salmon Falls River, from which there will be developed about 30,000 horse power. The company has been exempted from taxes for the next ten years and the situation of the plant upon tide water will be given an advantage in the way of shipping the product by vessels as well as in receiving coal direct from the southern pockets.

The company has purchased of George B. James, of Boston, upwards of 650 square miles of forest land in central New Hampshire and that part of the Saco River Valley which lies in southwestern Maine. Mr. James has been acquiring these vast blocks of land for the last thirty years, and it is anticipated that by following the new system of forestry the territory will yield a practically perpetual supply of pulp logs for the mills.

The principal men and concerns in the enterprise are William B. Plunkett of North Adams, Mass.; Col. John J. McCook of the firm of Alexander & Green, New York; President Oakley Thorn of the North American Trust Company; Charles E. Lock of 149 Broadway, New York, who will be treasurer of the corporation; George B. James of Boston; John C. Morgan of Niagara Falls; Gardiner Hall of South Willington; P. B. Wesson and the Hampden Trust Company of Springfield, Mass.; Charles Fletcher of Providence; Ferdinand W. Peck of Chicago; William S. Taylor of Philadelphia; George R. Bidwell, former Collector of the Port of New York; and George H. Robinson, Col. Wilbur C. Brown, William C. Beer and George E. Barstow, all of New York.

The company will employ, when in full operation, about 1600 men in Portsmouth and about 1000 in other parts of New Hampshire and Maine.

THE BOOK TRADE AND INTERNATIONAL POSTAL SERVICE.

THE permanent office of the International Congress of Publishers has issued a circular asking for consideration of four questions which are briefly summed up as follows:

(1.) Parcel Post and Printed Matter.—To urge every possible improvement in the international service and to ask that in the countries of the Postal Union the maximum weight of parcels by Parcel Post be raised to 5 kilos, that of printed matter to 3 kilos.

(2.) Vienna Agreement (Postal Newspaper Subscription).—To carry out, according to the special circumstances of each country, having in view the interests of publishers and proprietors of newspapers and periodicals as well as those of retail booksellers.

(3.) Registered Printed Matter.—To urge a reduction in the present tariff for registered printed matter, in the internal service, wherever it seems desirable, and in the service of the Postal Union.

(4.) Posting of Prints with Reimbursement.—To take steps with a view of obtaining a reduction in the present tariffs and to urge the extending of this system over the whole territory of the Postal Union.

As the next Congress of the Universal Postal Union will meet in Rome in 1904 it is deemed advisable to approach the postal authorities of the respective countries at an early date, so that the wishes of the Congress of Publishers may be included in the programme of the Congress of Rome in good time, lest the discussion of them should be postponed until the following Congress which is not likely to meet for another eight or ten years. Correspondence regarding this matter may be addressed to Henri Morel, the Provisory Administrator of the Permanent Office, 18 Kanonenweg, Berne, Switzerland.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

WHOLESALE NEWSDEALERS' EMPLOYEES' PROTECTIVE ASS'N OF BROOKLYN, N. Y.

THE Wholesale Newsdealers' Employees' Protective Association of Brooklyn and vicinity affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has been incorporated at Albany, N. Y. At the present time it has a membership of over 350. The association is composed of the employees of the following news agencies: The American, Harlem, Nassau, National, Union, New York, Independent, Schlauer, White, Williamsburgh, South Brooklyn, Tyrell, Brooklyn, Long Island, Manhattan and H. Egan.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOK PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION

THE managers of the Subscription Book Publishers' Association gave their first annual dinner at "The Arena," 41 West Thirty-first Street, New York, on the evening of April 23. This association has been in existence for several years, and its members meet frequently to discuss ways and means of conducting their business and to protect their interests against fraudulent canvassers, subscribers, etc. There were present at the annual dinner Charles T. Dillingham, of Hardy, Pratt & Co., who is the president of the association; Joseph F. Taylor, Rutger B. Jewett and Robert J. Allard, of J. F. Taylor & Co.; F. A. Winship, of Harper & Brothers; Ed. L. Dillingham, of Charles Scribner's Sons; E. G. Carter, of Crossup & Sterling Co.; Fred. De Fau, of Fred. De Fau & Co.; James R. Barrie, of George Barrie & Son; C. W. Stansbury, of D. Appleton & Co.; and R. F. Stonestreet, of the Anglo-American Publishing Co. After justice had been done to the excellent dinner, speechmaking was indulged in by almost every one present. Topics pertaining to the subscription book publishing business formed the subject of the discussion.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MRS. JULIA A. HARPER, widow of James Harper, the founder of the publishing firm of Harper & Brothers, and former Mayor of New York, died late on Friday night, April 18, at her home, 4 Gramercy Park, New York. She was eighty-one years old, and had been an invalid for years. She was a daughter of Samuel Thorne, one of New York's oldest shipbuilders, and was married to Mr. Harper in 1849. Mr. Harper died in 1869. Mrs. Harper was his second wife. They had three children—Mrs. Julia T. H. Millard, widow of Dr. Henry B. Millard, who lives in Paris; Miss Elizabeth Fletcher Harper and James Thorne Harper.

DR. FREDERICK ALBERT CASTLE died April 27, at the Roosevelt Hospital, New York. He was born at Fabius, N. Y., April 29, 1842, and took his degree from Bellevue Hospital Medical College. He served in the Federal Army as a medical cadet at the outbreak of the Civil War, and was appointed assistant surgeon in the navy in 1863. After the war he became a general practitioner in New York City. He was connected with the editorial staff of the Medical Record from 1872 to 1876, and was editor of New Remedies afterwards. The American Druggist. He was a prominent member of the Grolier Club, and the designer of the "Dutch Room" in its club house.

HENRY H. OTIS, bookseller, died April 26, at Buffalo, N. Y., where he lived for half a century. Mr. Otis was born in the village of Rome, February 4, 1834. His early years were spent on a farm, his education being obtained from a district school. He attended school a part of the winter and worked on the farm during the summer, according to the custom of the time. In 1853 he went to Buffalo. Obtaining a situation with the book publishing firm of Phinney & Co., by five years of earnest work he became head clerk. On February 17, 1858, Mr. Otis took charge of a bookstore in the Weed block. The original store was a branch of the Methodist Book Concern, but Mr. Otis soon obtained control of the business. The firm of H. H. Otis & Sons remained in the Weed block forty-three years, removing to Nos. 11 and 13 Swan Street when the old building made way for the new structure now being built by the Fidelity Trust Company. When the Chautauqua Assembly was established, in 1860, Mr. Otis opened a bookstore there, and his name is familiar to thousands who have visited the grounds. That business is carried on by his sons. Mr. Otis was a life-long Methodist. He founded the Plymouth and Asbury Methodist churches and had been a Sunday-school superintendent for nearly forty years. He also was a trustee of the Buffalo Orphan Asylum, and a member of Queen City Lodge, F. and A. M.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

KASSANDRA VIVARIA, (Mrs. Heinemann) has a new novel ready, entitled "The Garden of Olives."

WILLIAM HENRY CARSON, the author of "Hester Blair," was the leader of a theatre orchestra while going through the Boston University Law School.

PARTS of Miss Ellen M. Stone's experiences from the time of her capture by the brigands up to her release, will appear in McClure's Magazine under the title of "Six Months Among Macedonian Brigands." The first installment is given in the May number.

MAX O'RELL reached Paris entirely recovered from the operation he underwent in New York early this year. He is now regularly writing for the Figaro. His new book, "Between Ourselves," will be brought out in London by Chatto & Windus early this month.

MISS ELIZABETH ROBINS, [C. E. Raimund,] whose novel, "The Open Question," caused much talk, and gave promise of a brilliant literary future, has completed another novel—"The Magnetic North"—which is to be brought out by Frederick A. Stokes Company next September. Miss Robins is playing the part of "Lucrezia," said to be the best thing in George Alexander's presentation of Stephen Phillips's "Paolo and Francesca." She is a well-known figure on the English stage, but has been seen here only in a presentation of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler."

SAMUEL LANE BOARDMAN, literary editor of The Bangor Commercial—the leading literary journal in New England outside of Boston—is engaged upon a memoir of the Maine naturalist, the late George A. Boardman, of Calais, for early publication. Mr. Boardman was one of the most distinguished naturalists in New England, being an authority upon ornithology and eminent in other lines of natural history. Besides a memoir of Mr. Boardman the volume will embrace a selection from his correspondence with eminent naturalists, and his complete lists of birds, mammals, fishes, etc., found in Maine and New Brunswick. The volume will be illustrated.

CHARLES LIVINGSTON BULL, who has been working for some time on the illustrations for "The Kindred of the Wild," Charles G. D. Roberts's new book of animal life, which L. C. Page & Company expect to issue this month, has taken up his residence in Boston temporarily in order to devote his whole time and attention to the completion of the work. Mr. Bull, who has become so well and favorably known through his illustrations in Century, Leslie's and Outing, has hitherto given the greater part of his time to magazine work, but his personal friendship for Professor Roberts and his interest in the subject matter of his new book have caused him to lay aside for the time being his regular interests.

MISS SUSAN B. ANTHONY for many years has been planning and collecting material for an exhaustive history of the woman's suffrage movement in this country. She is now at work in her home in Rochester writing the history, assisted by Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, who has been long identified prominently with the woman's rights movement. While Miss Anthony's book will deal chiefly with this nation, she has made a profound study of the campaigns for equal rights of the sexes in all parts of the civilized world. She feels that much has been left untouched still, but she also feels that if she is to do the work it must be at once, as she is very old and is weakening physically, though as decisive and alert mentally as ever.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE PENN PUBLISHING COMPANY have changed the name of their Young Folks' Magazine to that of Youth, having formerly published that magazine at Buffalo. Youth offers a cash prize of $100 for the best short story for young people.

Les Arts is a new magazine published by Goupil & Co., of Paris, and by Manzi, Joyant & Co., of New York City. Besides being a chronicle of the art movements of the day, it also contains the reproduction and description of many unpublished works of value found in private collections. There is an English as well as a French text, the French being printed in Paris and the English in this country.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BRISTOL, TENN.—W. J. Carmack, proprietor of Carmack's Bookstore, has made an assignment.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Robert O. Law, trustee of George M. Hill, Co., has published the following notice: "Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of Court, entered April 26, A.D. 1902, by the Hon. Sydney C. Eastman, a referee of the said District Court, the undersigned trustee will on the 7th day of May, 1902, at 10 o'clock A.M., at the office of the referee, Sydney C. Eastman, Suite 714 Monadnock Building, Chicago, Ill., offer at public sale for cash, to the highest bidder, all, or any part, of the property of the above estate; the purchaser of Webster's Unabridged Dictionaries to pay the royalties thereon. A deposit of ten per cent. (10%) of all bids may be required. All sales to be made subject to the ratification of the Court."

CHICAGO, ILL.—Sims, Wilson & Sims Company, mail-order booksellers, have removed to larger quarters at 259 Wabash Avenue.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—The Grand Rapids Stationery Company has been incorporated and opened up for business at 29 North Ionia Street, where it occupies three floors. The Lyon, Kymer & Palmer Co. has discontinued its wholesale stationery business, and the entire wholesale stock and business was transferred to the newly organized company. The Grand Rapids Stationery Company has elected the following officers: President, Thomas M. Peck; vice-president, N. Fred Avery; secretary, Gilbert Van Sledright; treasurer, Gilbert J. Haan. The other stockholders are Charles W. Garfield, Katharine A. Peck, Peter Quartel and Peter Lubach. The capital stock of the new company is $20,000. The entire wholesale stock of paper, stationery and stationers' supplies, typewriter supplies and blank books carried by the Lyon, Kymer & Palmer Co. is being moved to the new store, and a large line of wrapping paper and paper bags will be added in addition to other new stock. Gilbert Haan will have the active management of the new business. He has been with the Lyon, Kymer & Palmer Company and its predecessors for twenty-three years, and for many years has held the position of manager of the wholesale department. Messrs. Sledright, Quartel and Lubach are old employees of the firm also; Mr. Sledright has been employed there eighteen years, Mr. Quartel eleven years and Mr. Lubach ten years.

NEW YORK CITY.—Hinds & Noble are moving their establishment to 31-35 West Fifteenth Street, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, where they will occupy the whole of the ground floor and basement of the Beldon Building. For seventeen years they have been a landmark, as it were, in the Cooper Institute Building, first occupying a part of one of the large ground floor stores, and gradually extending until two years ago, when they added the fifth store. Their new quarters will be more commodious, admitting of growth both in their business as publishers of educational books and that of wholesalers and retailers of school and college books—the text-books of all publishers at one store.

NEW YORK CITY.—Articles of incorporation of the Frank A. Munsey Company, capitalized at $10,000,000, were filed in Albany on the 12th inst. The company is organized for the purpose of printing and publishing newspapers and magazines, and to do a book making and book binding business.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

JOHN MURRAY, London, will shortly publish a work on the law of copyright in England and in her various colonies and in the United States, by E. J. MacGillivray.

E. P. DUTTON & CO. will publish in this country Stead's "Japan To-day," described in our issue of April 5. They have just ready "Contentio Veritatis," six essays in constructive theology, by six Oxford tutors.

FR. PUSTET & CO., New York, have published "Sermons on the Way of the Cross," by Rev. B. J. Raycroft; also, new editions of "The Life of the Ven. Anna Maria Taigi," and of "A Treatise of Spiritual Life," by Rev. D. A. Donovan.

B. HERDER, St. Louis, Mo., has published a "Life of Bartolomé Las Casas," by Father Dutto; a new edition of Knecht's Commentary of the Bible History, in two volumes; also, a little work entitled, "Find the Church," by Father Poland, S. J.

BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY have in preparation a new novel by Hallie Erminie Rives, a cousin of the author of "The Quick or the Dead?" Philadelphia in the Revolutionary period is the scene of some of the most important episodes of the plot.

THE WALDO PRESS, Cleveland, O., will publish an edition of twenty-two copies of "Lyrics from the Hebrew," printed from type cut after the Morris Chaucer, on Whatman handmade paper. The title-page, head-pieces initials and binding are designed by Elizabeth Geary.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY will publish in June a volume entitled "A Vacation with Nature," "studies of the natural forms under which God reveals His power and loving kindness to men," by the Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, son of the late Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

CONGDON & BRITNELL, Toronto, Canada, have just published in a limited edition "Canadian Men and Women of the Time," a handbook of Canadian biography edited by Henry J. Morgan. It is devoted exclusively to living persons of both sexes, including Canadians of note dwelling in all parts of the world.

JOHN P. DAVIS, of Pascoag, R. I., a news-dealer, has lost the sight of one eye, said to have been caused by being poisoned with the coloring from some of the colored pages in the Sunday newspapers. A few weeks ago, while folding the newspapers, he rubbed his hand over his eyes. His right eye soon began to pain him, and since that time he has suffered intense pain. He has lost the sight of this eye and his left is now affected.

The Star of Hope, published by the prisoners of the New York State prison at Sing Sing, is about to start a Literary Review column, "for the careful review of publications that are of general interest to our readers." "No. 1500," the editor-in-chief, has written to D. Appleton & Co. expressing a desire for copies of Alfred Ayres's "Some Ill-Used Words," and "Errors in the Use of English," by Dr. Hodgson. The books were forwarded to the editorial rooms.

AMONG the recent importations of Charles Scribner's Sons is "The International Students' Atlas," a valuable series of one hundred and five physical, political and statistical maps compiled from British and foreign surveys and the latest results of international research. The atlas has been prepared under the direction of J. G. Bartholomew, and is designed to illustrate not only one, but all textbooks of physical and political geography, and is a complete reference atlas for all students' general uses, with an index to 24,000 names.

THE W. A. WILDE COMPANY, of Boston, have just ready a nature story of farm and forest, entitled "What Gladys Saw," by Frances Margaret Fox, author of "Farmer Brown and the Birds." Primarily it is a nature story, containing a wealth of nature study such as the author is well known to have at her command. Still, this does not prevent the weaving in of a story about people that young readers will find particularly interesting. Care has been exercised to make it scientifically accurate as well as popular in treatment.

THE first volume of C. Oman's "History of the Peninsular War," which will shortly be issued from the Oxford University Press, deals with the events from the treaty of Fontainebleau to the battle of Corunna—1807-1809. Mr. Oman explains that he no more dreams of superseding the immortal six volumes of Napier than Dr. Gardiner dreamed of superseding Clarendon's history; but points out that while Napier is unrivalled as a narrator of the incidents of war, he is a less trustworthy guide in politics. The new history will contain a considerable amount of new matter, and maps, plans and portraits.

A. S. BARNES & CO. will publish shortly "A World's Shrine," by Virginia W. Johnson, author of "The Lily of the Arno," "Genoa," etc. This book describes in vivid language that most beautiful of the Italian lakes, Lake Como, its surroundings, its legends, its former greatness, the home of Pliny and the immortals whose names are linked with its history. The volume will be fully illustrated. They will also publish this month "The Love Story of Abner Stone," by Edwin Carlile Litsey, "a man's life story," whose chief charm is in the pure and delicate touches of nature as found in Kentucky, of life and of love.

Town Topics for April 24 prints the following item: "Women in New York and Chicago complain of being swindled by the agent of a Philadelphia firm of book publishers. The agent, well gowned, drives about in a liveried carriage; sends up a card with a fine Belgian name; gets orders for $10 books, and then "raises" the order to hundreds or thousands of dollars. The firm promptly acknowledges the receipt of the bogus order, and the victim is threatened with a lawsuit if she refuses to take the books and pay. I have been given on good authority the names of the firm and the agent, and they are at the service of the police."

THE Board of Directors of the Bank of New York has brought out a new edition of the history of the bank, by Henry W. Domett, which, issued in simple form at the time of the centennial of the bank in 1884, was almost immediately exhausted. The book is not only a valuable history of one of New York's most honored and useful financial institutions, but it is a sketch, particularly in its earlier pages, of the history of finance in this country from the time when the ideas of Hamilton were striving to exert themselves against every kind of financial and industrial intrigue which had been bequeathed to the community by the forced stringency of the Revolution.

H. W. BRYANT, 223 Middle Street, Portland, Me., will reprint the "Journal of James Melvin, private soldier in Arnold's Expedition against Quebec in the year 1775." The journal will be carefully annotated by Andrew A. Melvin, and will be accompanied by a biographical sketch of James Melvin, the writer of the journal. An introduction, in the form of an historical review of the period, will form part of the volume. The edition will be limited to 250 numbered copies. The journal was first privately printed by "The Club," one of the earliest of the American book clubs, in 1857, and in 1864 by another book club, the Franklin Club, of Philadelphia.

So much interest is being taken in the issue of fifty sets of proof etchings of the book-plate which King Edward VII. has given the artist, George W. Eve, permission to prepare for presentation toward the coronation fund to the London hospitals, that it is a certainty they will all be bought up before they are out. Each set of "remarque" proofs is to cost eight guineas, but they will in all probability fetch a good deal more. The subject of the King's book-plates recalls the fact that the King takes a very keen interest in his books. He has just had the library at Windsor rearranged after his own taste by the chief of the well-known Piccadilly firm of booksellers, Messrs. Hatchard.

THE first of the eleven new supplementary volumes of the ninth edition of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" will be published this week. These volumes will contain more than 10,000 articles by more than 1000 contributors, 150 full-page plates, 125 colored maps, and 2300 other illustrations, prepared under the editorial direction of Sir Donald Mackenzie Wallace, President Hadley, of Yale University, and Hugh Chisholm. Besides bringing the famous ninth edition of the encyclopædia up to date, these supplementary volumes, which will be published at, approximately, monthly intervals, will constitute an independent reference library, dealing with recent history and recent progress in all departments of knowledge.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co have in preparation "September Days on Nantucket," a new book by William Root Bliss, which reflects the enjoyment of early autumn on this island of the sea, in what purports to be the diary of a visit made by two friends; "Captain Craig," a collection of poems, by Edwin Arlington Robinson; "Nathaniel Hawthorne," a biography, by Professor George E. Woodberry, a new volume in the American Men of Letters Series; also, "New France and New England," a posthumous volume, by the late John Fiske, which is said to "furnish the only link needed to complete the chain of histories of this country, from the discovery of America to the adoption of the Constitution, upon which Dr. Fiske had for so many years been engaged."

AN important contribution to the documentary history of New York State will soon be published under the direction of State Historian Hastings. It will consist of documents gathered by Dr. E. T. Corwin, in Holland, supplementary to those brought here fifty years ago by J. Romeyn Brodhead, and in part embodied in the "Documentary History of New York." Two volumes of these records, covering the period down to 1700, are nearly ready for binding. It has taken two years to translate and prepare for publication this portion of the material, and within two years, if the Legislature continues the appropriation needed, the work will be completed. The light shed upon the Colonial period of the State by these records may be assumed to be very valuable.

"MISS PETTICOATS," the title of the book by the mysterious Dwight Tilton, which will be issued May 20, is such a curious name for a novel that it is no wonder one hears a frequent query for an explanation of its origin. The publishers answer the question by giving the following quotation from Chapter IV. of "Miss Petticoats": "And so, 'Miss Petticoats,' you know the whole story except how you really got that name. Your mother used to fondle you, and call you 'Mon petit cœur.' I didn't know French then, and asked her what she meant. 'My little heart,' she said, and I laughed and told her 'Miss Petticoats' was as near as I could come to the jargon, and 'Miss Petticoats' you've been ever since.' 'And I—oh, think of it—I hated the name when you spoke it a little while ago,' said the girl gently; 'I shall love it forever now for her sake.'

H. M. CALDWELL COMPANY will publish at once, by arrangement with David Belasco, the Blanche Bates Edition of "Under Two

"Flags," with all the illustrations from the play and an extra portrait of Miss Bates, suitable for framing; also, a new edition, from new plates, of "The Royalty of Friendship," a collection of prose and poetry on the subject of friendship, by Alice L. Williams. Of "The Royalty of Friendship," an edition de luxe with hand-decorated title-page, etc., will also be brought out in the fall. They will publish in August an Anniversary Edition of Victor Hugo's "Notre Dame," translated by A. L. Alger. It will be in two volumes and will contain 150 illustrations by Rossi, Bieler and Myrbach, together with all the illustrations from the play, by special arrangement and permission of Mr. Daniel Frohman, produced at Daly's Theatre, New York, with a facsimile of the programme on the opening night, the 100th anniversary of Hugo's birth.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY will publish a posthumous story by Stephen Crane, "The O'Ruddy," which has been completed by A. E. W. Mason, the author of "Miranda of the Balcony," etc. "The River," a new story by Eden Phillpotts, said to be "a long novel of the order of 'Children of the Mist';" "The Destiny of Bettina," the story of an international marriage which took place when such marriages were not every day occurrences, by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett-Townsend, who is rapidly recovering from an attack of neuritis that obliged her to rest at a sanitarium at Fishkill Landing, N. Y.; "Penruddock of the White Lambs," a story by Samuel H. Church, one of the forty survivors of the Duke of Newcastle's famous regiment, which Cromwell cut to pieces at Marston Moor; "Come with Me Into Babylonia," a novel of Babylonian life, by Josiah M. Ward; "Amor Victor: a Tale of Ephesus and Rome," by Orr Kenyon; also two volumes more of "Letters of Bismarck," containing a large amount of correspondence between him and the Emperor William, as well as many letters of a miscellaneous nature throwing sidelights on the characters of the great chancellor and of many of his famous contemporaries.

ETHAN ALLEN WEAVER, Lock Box 713, Philadelphia, is preparing a history of the part played by Northampton County, Pa., in the Revolutionary War. That county, then comprising what is now Northampton, Lehigh, Carbon, Monroe, Pike and Wayne Counties, furnished a number of Washington's most trusted officers, and contributed many men to the Continental and militia service. The book is to contain besides a mere history of events a reprint of the minutes of the county committee of safety from 1774 to 1777; the sermon preached at Easton upon the return of Sullivan's army in 1779; extracts from the diaries of the Moravian churches at Bethlehem and Nazareth; letters written from Easton by distinguished officers; muster rolls, lists of pensioners, biographical sketches and portraits of civil and military officers of the county, with their autographs, and interesting maps and engravings of historic buildings. Correspondence is invited from those who are in possession of portraits, silhouettes, letters, muster-rolls, or any papers relating to the county, or of its citizens enlisted in the Revolutionary War. The minutes of the committee of safety after 1777 are missing, and it is hoped that this announcement may bring them to light.

A. C. McCLURG & CO. have just ready a volume of "Letters to an Enthusiast," by Mary Cowden Clarke. These letters are addressed to a Mr. Robert Balmanno, of New York, who admired Mrs. Clarke's "Concordance to Shakespeare" so much that he wrote to Douglas Jerrold, begging him to ask Mrs. Clarke to send him one of the slips used in preparing the "Concordance" that he might have a word in her handwriting. Mrs. Clarke graciously complied with his request. Later Mr. Balmanno moved to enthusiasm some of the most prominent persons in this country, and a number of these—among them Daniel Webster, William Cullen Bryant, Richard Grant White, Longfellow, Charlotte Cushman and S. Austin Allibone—unitedly sent Mrs. Clarke a testimonial in the shape of a large rosewood chair. From this began a correspondence that lasted eleven years, (1850-1861); and though during this time Mrs. Clarke never met her correspondent, it ceased only at the death of Mr. Balmanno, in 1861. The volume is edited by Anne Upton Nettleton, and contains ten photogravure plates. They have also just ready an attractive new edition of "The Book Lover: a Guide to the Best Reading," by James Baldwin, revised and furnished with new lists and additional matter.

PICK-UPS.

ENOUGH.—Bookseller (to new salesman.)—Can you give opinions about historical novels without reading them? Salesman.—Why, certainly! Bookseller.—But suppose you are asked about the plot and construction? Salesman.—But I have read one.—Puck.

AN ODD CASE.—"Why, the first publisher the book was offered to accepted it, and predicted that it would be a phenomenal success!" "That's very strange. I never heard of a book being a success until at least a dozen publishers had declined it."—Puck.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

[20] In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Dash].

[20] Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

"The Most Alive of All Recent Heroines," says the Boston Herald, is in Mr. CHARLES MAJOR'S New Love Story

Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall

By the Author of "When Knighthood Was in Flower." Illustrated by HOWARD CHANDLER CHRISTY. 369 pages, gilt tops, 12mo, in decorated cloth binding.

"MR. MAJOR HAS DISCOVERED WHAT POTENT IMPLEMENTS ARE LANGUAGE AND STYLE IN THE CREATION OF ROMANCE, AND HE HAS MASTERED THEIR USE. . . . BUT THE ROMANCE REMAINS THE THING WITH THIS AUTHOR. IT IS THE VERY ROOT AS WELL AS THE FLOWER OF HIS GIFT."—Mail and Express.

"DOROTHY IS A SPLENDID CREATION, A SUPERB CREATURE OF BRAINS, BEAUTY, FORCE, CAPACITY AND PASSION, A RIOT OF ENERGY, LOVE AND RED BLOOD. SHE IS THE FAIREST, FIERCEST, STRONGEST, TENDEREST HEROINE THAT EVER WOKE UP A JADED NOVEL READER AND MADE HIM REALIZE THAT LIFE WILL BE WORTH LIVING SO LONG AS THE WRITERS OF FICTION CREATE HER LIKE. . . . THE STORY HAS BRAINS, 'GO,' VIRILITY, GUMPTION AND ORIGINALITY."—Boston Herald.

The Conqueror

BEING THE TRUE AND ROMANTIC
STORY OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON

*By the Author of "Senator North," "The Aristocrats," etc.
546 pp., 12mo, gilt tops, in decorated cloth covers. Price, $1.50*

MRS. GERTRUDE ATHERTON'S NEW NOVEL CERTAINLY HAS ITS FULL SHARE OF ONE CHARACTERISTIC QUALITY OF HER WORK, THAT OF AROUSING HEATED DISCUSSION. "BRILLIANT," "CLEVER," "ORIGINAL," "ABSORBINGLY INTERESTING," ARE A FEW OF THE ADJECTIVES SHOWERED UPON IT BY MANY CRITICS WHO FIND IT THAT RARE THING "A BOOK OF FICTION WHICH DOES NOT TAKE LIBERTIES WITH FACTS" YET WITH CHAPTERS "MORE STRANGE AND MORE DRAMATIC THAN ANY THAT BELONG TO A MODERN SENSATIONAL NOVEL." "FULL OF VIGOR AND FASCINATION" IS A CONSTANTLY RECURRING PHRASE; BUT ONE REVIEWER FINDS MOST OF ITS PAGES "UTTERLY DREARY AND WEARISOME."

The Virginian

A HORSEMAN OF THE PLAINS

By the Author of "Lin McLean," etc. With eight full-page drawings by ARTHUR I. KELLER. Cloth. Price, $1.50

MR. OWEN WISTER BRINGS TOGETHER IN HIS NEW BOOK A YOUNG COWBOY FROM VIRGINIA AND A YOUNG SCHOOL TEACHER FROM VERMONT. HE HAS BEEN TRANSPLANTED TO THE FAR WEST SO LONG AS TO SHARE IN THE ROUGHNESS AS WELL AS THE BREADTH OF THAT OPEN COUNTRY WHICH IS TO HER A REVELATION; AND WHILE THE DEEPENING ACQUAINTANCE AWAKENS THE NATURAL STRAIN OF FINENESS IN HIM, SHE IS REPelled BY HIS ROUGHNESS, THOUGH ATTRACTED BY HIS VIRILITY. THE EPISODES RANGE FROM LAUGHABLE TO TRAGIC, AT TIMES GROTESQUE, AND ALL ARE TINGLING WITH THE INDESCRIBABLE ATMOSPHERE OF "THE CATTLE COUNTRY."

A Romance Full of "Snap" and "Go"

NONE BUT THE BRAVE—

By HAMBLEN SEARS

"THE action of the story is not only constant, but it is fascinating at every page. The plot is unique.

"The Tory maid is the most aggravating minx that a man ever spilled blood for; and yet—well, you're glad enough to meet her every time she comes on the scene, tantalizing as are her mysterious moods. The three Colonial guardsmen are heroes of the most fascinating kind, and their adventures are many and of the most desperate sort.

"'None but the Brave—' is a sure success."

VOLUNTEER REGULAR

A Fascinating Romance of the Philippines

By ISRAEL PUTNAM

This is a charming story of love and soldier adventure in the Philippines, written in a brilliant style and with a plot full of strong and vivid contrasts. It pictures before the reader both the strenuous and the idyllic sides of life in the Islands. It throws into bold relief the intelligent native sugar-planters and the ignorant insurgent class. It draws the dissimilarity of a Filipino girl of the rich mestiza type of beauty, and a New York girl of aristocratic reserve and culture.

*The First Satisfactory Story

New York Press: "He writes with confidence, and he is justified, not only by his knowledge of the men and incidents described, which is thorough, but by his skill in handling the language, his ability in constructing and managing a plot, and by his true and equal insight into the probabilities of the human mind and heart. As a novel it is full of that sober common-sense which means so much to the reader tired with the surfeit of mad heroics and theatric passion that fill nine book-covers out of ten these days."

Handsome Cover. 12mo, Cloth. Illustrations by Sewell Collins. $1.20 net; postage, 10 cents.

"Already one of the Most Talked of Novels of the Day."

Lord Alingham, Bankrupt.

By MARIE MANNING.

A BOOK to be commended unequivocally. It is a lively story, dealing with people who are interesting from the start, and with a theme equally interesting but which is too seldom treated adequately or truthfully in novels. In the first chapter we are introduced to a party on a steamer just leaving New York. A young lord, who is physically all that a lord should be, broad shouldered and strong of limb, has visited us in search of an heiress to retrieve his fallen fortunes, and is returning disappointed because a yellow journal, in flaring headlines, ridiculed his scheme. On the steamer is an ingenue with freckles, of a type wholly unknown to the Lord, whose acquaintance with most other types of women was deplorably extensive. He falls in love with the girl in spite of himself, and she admires his manly attributes and perfect breeding, without stint, and she shows her admiration openly without knowing it. The book is charmingly written. The contrasts are delightful, and the dialogue contains not a word too much, every line of it brilliant and pithy.

THE BAKER & TAYLOR CO., 33-37 East 17th St., Union Sq., North, New York

The English Exploration of America.

We are living in a new period of expansion and great changes on the map of the world, such as there has not been since the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. It is interesting, at such a time, to look back to the period when our forefathers expanded into this New World.

THE FOLLOWING OLD SOUTH LEAFLETS HAVE BEEN ADDED TO THE SERIES:

"John Cabot's Discovery of North America," "Sir Francis Drake on the California Coast," "Frobisher's First Voyage," "Sir Humphrey Gilbert's Expedition to Newfoundland," "Raleigh's First Roanoke Colony," "Gosnold's Settlement at Cuttyhunk," "Captain John Smith's Description of New England," and Richard Hakluyt's Discourse on Western Painting."

These leaflets are Nos. 115-122 in the Old South series, which is now so large. They are made up from original documents of the period, and are all accompanied by careful historical and bibliographical notes. Sold for five cents a copy, they place at the service of the schools and the public a most important mass of historical papers not otherwise easily accessible.

DIRECTORS OF THE OLD SOUTH WORK, Old South Meeting House, Boston, Mass.

PUBLISHERS who safeguard crevices through which high binding bills creep, are ultimately bound to lead the procession in the onward march of progress. Just stop long enough in the whirl of your busy hours to consider the vast importance and advantage to your interests which a connection with me implies. A line to me either to call or submit samples and estimates will have the desired effect. The annual sum total I am positive I can save you in your binding account is sufficient to provide a dividend, the amount of which some of the best publishers don't earn. In spite of being your lowest bidder I will give you the highest character of work, employing only the highest priced labor, thus obtaining the best possible results. My plant and facilities are unequalled. Don't allow yourselves to be blinded by cant and misrepresentation. The constant hum of my busy plant is a sufficient answer to those who disregard the broad plane of justice and equality. Even those publishers who have their own plants find that I can do their work cheaper and better than they can produce it themselves.

Very heavy advance orders are indicating an extraordinary interest in this book and its mysterious author

THIS powerfully dramatic, intensely interesting novel of modern life, presents in Agatha Renier, "Miss Petticoats," a feminine figure unique in the world of fiction. It is a story that goes straight to the heart, enforcing through a tense and brilliant narrative the eternal truth that—"THERE IS NO SEX IN SIN."
